National Science Foundation	Computer Science for All (CSforAll)	-	-	-	04/13/20
Competition Description	This program aims to provide all U.S. students with the opportunity to participate in computer science (CS) and computational thinking (CT) education in their schools at the preK-12 levels. With this solicitation, NSF focuses on both research and researcher-practitioner partnerships (RPPs) that foster the research and development needed to bring CS and CT to all schools. Specifically, this solicitation aims to provide (1) high school teachers with the preparation, professional development (PD) and ongoing support they need to teach rigorous computer science courses; (2) preK-8 teachers with the instructional materials and preparation they need to integrate CS and CT into their teaching; and (3) schools and districts with the resources needed to define and evaluate multi-grade pathways in CS and CT.

Dept. of Education	Magnet Schools Program	-	-	04/20/20	Projected 05/11/20
Competition Description	This program provides funding to LEAs to establish and operate magnet schools that are operated under a court-ordered or federally approved voluntary desegregation plan. These grants assist in the desegregation of public schools by supporting the elimination, reduction, and prevention of minority group isolation in elementary and secondary schools with substantial numbers of minority group students. The program supports capacity development-the ability of a school to help all its students meet more challenging standards-through professional development and other activities that will enable the continued operation of the magnet schools at a high-performance level after funding ends. According to the Dept. of Education forecast, $28.6 million will be available for FY 2020 for up to 7-9 awards. Applications are forecasted to be available on February 17, 2020.
